

frogblue – the next generation of Bluetooth-based systems for intelligent living. We are recruiting new staff at our headquarters in Munich and at the Kaiserslautern branch. If you're looking for a challenging role in the field of smart building technologies that will demand your entire expertise and commitment, you've come to the right place. We currently have a vacancy for a

Developer of Embedded Software for Embedded Systems

in Munich

Your tasks

- > Designing, creating and testing embedded software components for embedded systems (ARM Cortex-M0-A9)
- > Defining and specifying interfaces for user software

Your profile

- > Degree in technical IT, electrotechnology or similar qualification
- > Very good knowledge of the programming language C
- > Experience in the creation of microcontroller software
- > Independent and structured way of working

We offer

- > A performance-related salary
- > Excellent benefits
- > A job in an innovative environment
- > Development of high-tech products
- > Modern office near the Hirschgarten
- > Excellent public transport links
- > Very interesting responsibilities with room for creativity
- > An international working environment in a dynamic growth market
- > Close collaboration with national and international specialists within an internationally active high-tech company
- > Open and friendly working atmosphere in a professional environment
- > Excellent prospects from our success story

You work well on your own and are an even better team player. You strive for results and have a genuine "hands-on" mentality. Critical situations spur you to give your all.

Could this be you? Would you like the opportunity to help a young company grow and help shape its character? Very good, then please send your full application to the address below, mentioning the reference number 42017.

